

UMRA FORUM

SEPTEMBER-OCTOBER 2023

The impact of the U.S. Supreme Court's recent 'blockbuster' case decisions

Over its past two terms, the U.S. Supreme Court has issued several decisions in what many legal experts, including University of Minnesota Professor Jill Hasday, consider to be “blockbuster” cases. From its seminal abortion decision in June 2022, to its June 2023 decisions involving affirmative action and other closely watched matters, the court's conservative majority has left an indelible mark on American jurisprudence.

To discuss the meaning and impact of these blockbuster cases, UMRA welcomes Professor Hasday as the guest speaker for our September 26 luncheon forum. Hasday will discuss four cases in particular: the abortion decision, Dobbs v. Jackson Women's Health Organization; the affirmative action decision, Students for Fair Admissions v. Harvard College; the Christian web designer case, 303 Creative LLC v. Elenis; and the student loan forgiveness case, Biden v. Nebraska. In all these cases, the conservative majority prevailed.

Jill Hasday

Hasday will share her perspective on these cases and, during the Q & A period following her presentation, will answer questions about these and other Supreme Court cases that may be on your mind.

Hasday is a Distinguished McKnight University Professor and the Centennial Professor of Law at the U of M Law School. She teaches and writes about anti-discrimination law, constitutional law, family law, and legal history. Hasday graduated from Yale College and Yale Law School. After law school, she clerked for Judge Patricia Wald of the U.S. Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia Circuit.

Hasday's law review articles and legal books are recognized nationally. Her book Intimate Lies and the Law won the 2020 Scribes Book Award “for the best work of legal scholarship published during the previous year,” and the Foreword INDIES Family & Relationships gold award. You may have heard Hasday speak on Minnesota Public Radio or other media outlets, as she is a frequent commentator sharing her insights on the latest Supreme Court decisions.

UMRA is fortunate to have Professor Hasday as our September forum speaker. Please make your reservation today and join us at 11 a.m. on Tuesday, September 26, at Midland Hills Country Club in Roseville to kick off our UMRA forum series for the 2023–24 academic year.

SEPTEMBER 19 LIVING WELL WORKSHOP

Hearing, healthy aging, and OTC hearing aids

Hearing loss is a major area of interest to the UMRA membership, and we are fortunate to have a team of University of Minnesota experts in this area to present our first Living Well Workshop for UMRA's 2023–24 program year, on September 19.

Meredith E. Adams, MD, is chief of the Division of Otolaryngology and Neurotology in the Medical School. Peggy Nelson, PhD, is professor of audiology in the Department of Speech-Language-Hearing Sciences and newly appointed associate dean for social sciences in the College of Liberal Arts (CLA). Together, they will discuss hearing, healthy aging, and new developments in over-the-counter hearing aids.

Professor Nelson served as the inaugural director of the Center for Applied and Translational Sensory Science in CLA from 2015 to 2022. During 2021–22, she also served as interim department chair for the Department of Classical and Near Eastern Studies (now Classical and Near Eastern Religions and Cultures).

From the President

A path to happiness

There are many paths to happiness. Examples include positive social relationships, service to others, and physical and intellectual exercise. I invite you to take part in some or all of what UMRA has to offer to help you lead a more fulfilling and happy life.

Eric Hockert

Our in-person forums, interest groups, and social events provide opportunities to connect with others. The University of Minnesota Retirees Volunteer Center (URVC) provides opportunities to give back to others, at the University and in the community. Our hiking, photo, and book clubs are a wonderful way to get that exercise we all want and need. These and more offerings are available to you as an UMRA member.

There are many people who have worked to create the vibrant organization we have today. In particular, I'd like to thank Past President Ron Matross for his leadership, his idea for the Silver Gopher Service Corps that URVC implemented, and the many other things he did to move UMRA forward.

I'd also like to thank the members of the Program Committee, the Host Team, and our Zoom webinar moderators and production team for all their work to make our in-person and online forums and workshops a success this past year.

During my seven years since retiring from the University, I've taken part in many UMRA activities. I've also seen the great work done by our many volunteers. These include President-elect and Program Committee Chair Julie Sweitzer, Treasurer Kristy Frost-Griep, Secretary Laurie Coffin Koch, URVC Council Chair Jerry Rinehart, and many others.

A force for good

I plan to build on the foundation developed by my predecessors to increase the engagement of our 800-plus members in UMRA's many activities, and to increase UMRA's engagement with the University. Our membership represents more than 25,000 years of combined work experience! That's a force for much good in the world. I'll share my thoughts on ways we can do this over the next several months.

I joined UMRA because a friend—John Anderson, an active UMRA member and past president—cared enough to invite me. I have found and developed many new friendships during my seven years in UMRA and URVC. Every new friend has improved my life, and I hope I've contributed in some small way to improving theirs.

I ask you to care enough about a University retiree friend to invite them and their spouse or partner to join UMRA. It will help you and it will help them. It helped me.

—Eric Hockert, UMRA president, ehockert@umn.edu

Membership renewal reminder

New membership cards for 2023–24 were mailed by mid-August to those who have renewed their UMRA membership for the coming year. The cards include the QR code for one of the great benefits that comes with UMRA membership: a discounted rate of $1 per hour in University parking facilities. The parking discount is good through June 2024.

Forgotten whether you've renewed your UMRA membership? You can check online at umra.umn.edu.

At the upper right on the UMRA home page, click on “Member Portal” and choose “Renew Membership” from the drop-down box (login required). This will take you to a form that shows your membership information. Review and make changes if needed, scroll down to the bottom, and click “Save Changes & Renew.” This will take you to a form to complete your renewal. At the top of this form, you'll see a message telling you the last date you renewed. If you've already renewed, you're good to go. If not, please complete the form and pay.

UMRA membership reflects the spectrum of talent that is vital to the life of the University:

- 25 percent bargaining unit and civil service
- 30 percent faculty
- 29 percent professional and administrative
- 16 percent spouses and partners.

Our leaders work to provide a range of programs and activities. If you have questions or ideas you'd like to share, please contact any member of the UMRA Board of Directors.

2024 Grants for retirees

UMRA's Professional Development Grants for Retirees (PDGR) program is an annual competition with applications accepted October 1 to December 31. It provides financial support for University retirees to continue scholarship or pursue new projects. Retirees from all five campuses within the U of M System are eligible whether or not they are members of UMRA. Funding of up to $5,000 per grant is available.

Since 2009, PDGR grants have been awarded to more than 110 retirees. Recent award recipients have focused on projects as varied as insect biodiversity in Ecuador, Minnesota's human rights stories, and temper outbursts in psychiatrically referred youth. You can find more information about the program, including the instructions for applying for 2024 funding, at umra.umn.edu > Serving You > Grants for Retirees. Please consider making an application.

If you have previously contributed to the PDGR program, thank you for your support. If you have not yet contributed or, if you would like to make another tax-deductible contribution, you can do so online at z.umn.edu/PDGR.

You can also make a tax-efficient gift from an IRA if you are age 70½ or older. Contact Lynn Praska, senior planned giving officer, U of M Foundation, at lpraska@umn.edu or 612-624-4158.

Contact John Bantle, MD, PDGR Committee chair, at bantl001@umn.edu if you have questions or suggestions for the grant program.

ARMCHAIR TRAVELER

From northern Spain to western Africa

UMRA's first Armchair Traveler program of 2023–24 will take us from the Camino de Santiago in northern Spain to Sierra Leone in West Africa on Wednesday, September 20, from 10 to 11 a.m. via Zoom.

We will have two fabulous presenters, both UMRA members. Here is a preview, including descriptions by the presenters.

Nanette Hanks will take us to the Camino de Santiago, a network of pilgrimage trails leading to the shrine of the apostle James in the Cathedral of Santiago de Compostela in Galicia, Spain.

“Pilgrims have been walking to Santiago de Compostela in northern Spain for thousands of years, but its popularity has swelled in the last 20. The scenery along this unique and historic 500-mile trail is breathtaking, passing through fields, forests of eucalyptus, small villages, big cities, and tiny hamlets.”

Thomas O'Toole will take us to Sierra Leone, where he served in the Peace Corps in 1963. Those interested in an intimate look at a lesser-known African country ought to think about a visit. Its palm-fringed white beaches and warm people are most welcoming. You will gain a deep appreciation for Salone as people share their zest to tell you about their story of struggle, resilience, and hope.”

The Zoom link for the meeting will be emailed to UMRA members one month and also one week before the program. I hope you can join us.

—Lynn C. Anderson, Armchair Traveler program chair

Board chooses Midland Hills

UMRA will hold five of its in-person luncheon forums at Midland Hills Country Club in Roseville this program year (September, October, November, March, and April). The forums in January and February 2024 will be virtual events via Zoom. The May 2024 Annual Meeting and Luncheon Forum location may be either Midland Hills or the Campus Club in Coffman Memorial Union. The UMRA Board selected Midland Hills for the following reasons:

Cost. Estimates from Midland Hills were considerably lower.

Positive feedback. In our surveys, those who attended last year's forums at Midland Hills gave it high marks for its food and service, and easy and free parking.

Uncertainty about the Campus Club. Ongoing discussions between the Campus Club and the U of M provost have left the future of the Campus Club in doubt. While the Campus Club would like to have our business, they told us it was not crucial to their survival.

Midland Hills has roots in the University and is considered by some to be part of the larger University community. The University Women's Club and several other University organizations meet there today.

Reservations for our 2023–24 luncheon forums are now open. Go to umra.umn.edu > Member Portal > Forum Reservations where you can make reservations and pay for individual or multiple programs.

We hope to see you in person soon!

HELLO, my name is Joni Mitchell

Hometown: St. Paul. The first years were near the Cathedral and then [we moved] to Grand Avenue.

When did you become a member of UMRA?

When I retired in 2015.

What was your very first job? My dad had a photography business in our home. After school, I worked the business—making proofs, putting wedding albums together, paying bills, and waiting on customers.

What was your occupation when you retired from FT work? I was an accountant in the College of Pharmacy.

Have you ever met or seen the other Joni Mitchell in concert? No, not in person. But that's how my husband proposed. He said, "Just think, you'd be Joni Mitchell!"

Joni Mitchell with three of her favorite people, grandchildren Julian, Quinn, and Leighton Webb.

If you were an Olympic athlete, what would you like your sport to be? I played tennis for a good part of my life, and now I enjoy watching the Tennis Channel. So, I think I'd like to be a tennis Olympian.

Do you have a favorite place on the U of M campus? I love looking out over Northrop Mall from the balcony at the Campus Club.

What is a fun fact about you we might not know? I met and married my husband in nine weeks' time. It was a whirlwind, and that was 28 years ago!

What is something you currently enjoy doing with your time? I like to travel, hike, read, play cards, entertain, and spend time with family. In the spring I make a list of all the restaurant patios I want to visit throughout the summer. Sometimes I can't get to all of them! I'm a member of the UMRA Book Club, too.

Big Ten conference was collegial, productive

Both the weather and the collegial discussions were warm at the 2023 Big Ten Retirees Association conference held at the University of Wisconsin–Madison in late July. Current and past UMRA presidents Eric Hockert and Ron Matross represented UMRA and enjoyed exchanging ideas and practices with representatives from the other Big Ten associations.

The conference attendees discussed a number of issues. One that was of interest to all was the issue of how to help current members become more deeply involved in their associations so that leadership revolves.

We also spent time sharing information about our programs. Of particular interest to our sister schools were UMRA's Cabinet of Curiosities series and the Silver Gophers Service Corps. Both discussions gave us several ideas worth pursuing.

The conference was also a chance for the UW–Madison Retirement Association to showcase its campus and faculty. We heard excellent presentations about land-grant universities, sustainability at UW–Madison, and how higher education can serve the underserved. These were a fine complement to our roundtable discussions.

Next year's conference will be at Ohio State University in Columbus. Minnesota will host the 2026 conference, and we need to assemble a planning group right away. Please contact Eric Hockert at ehockert@umn.edu if you're interested in being the leader of this group or if you're interested in being a member.

—Eric Hockert, UMRA president, and Ron Matross, UMRA past president (2022–23)

VOLUNTEER CENTER

Campus Sneak Preview Days

Would-be freshmen and their parents often fear getting lost on the large University of Minnesota Twin Cities campus. So, the Office of Admissions sets out to make sure sons and daughters, moms and dads, even grandparents, can experience friendliness and helpfulness on the campus. Thus, when one family participating in this summer's Campus Sneak Preview Days couldn't find their way from the Molecular and Cellular Biology building to Nicholson Hall, UMRA volunteer and President-elect Julie Sweitzer personally walked the family across campus.

That story is one indication of the Sneak Preview program's success. Numbers are another. This year, more than 2,200 visitors, including 850 prospective students, attended one of the six sessions.

Sneak Preview Days have been happening at the University for many years. Admissions staff provide in-person tours, which include a general information session highlighting academics, campus life, student resources, and the admissions process.

This year, adding 18 UMRA Silver Gopher Service Corps volunteers put a new twist on the welcome. Who better to provide a friendly greeting and lend a helping hand than those of us who have spent our careers at the University?

"I think they really enjoyed meeting someone who was enthusiastic and positive about the U," Silver Gopher volunteer Nanette Hanks said.

The Silver Gopher volunteers greeted participants and gave directions. Shannon Anderson, Minnesota Freshman Admission Counselor, worked closely with University Retirees Volunteer Center leaders Jerry Rinehart and Deanne Magnusson to recruit and organize the volunteers' participation. "The Silver Gopher Service Corps volunteers did more than fill in the gaps. They added value," Anderson said.

Silver Gopher volunteer opportunities this fall will include U of M Welcome Week, food packaging for underserved youth, and landscape and pollinator restoration projects in the area. Go to urvc.umn.edu to learn more and register to receive information related to your areas of interest.

Leisurely Lake Minnetonka hike

UMRA Board member KaiMay Terry has invited the UMRA Hiking Club for a 3.5-mile, slow-paced walk on the Three Rivers Dakota Rail Regional Trail, starting at 9:30 a.m. on Monday, September 11. This scenic paved trail is just a five-minute walk from KaiMay's beautiful home overlooking Lake Minnetonka. KaiMay has generously offered her home as a start and end point, and will provide light refreshments after the walk!

To sign up for this hike and/or our hikes on September 25, October 2 and 16, go to umra.umn.edu > Programs & Events > Annual Calendar and search by the date.

Questions? Contact Bev Moe at amoegirl@gmail.com.

September 12 Photo Club meeting

All UMRA members with an interest in photography are welcome to attend the in-person meeting of the UMRA Photo Club at the Hennepin County St. Anthony branch library starting at 12:30 p.m. on Tuesday, September 12. "Fences" is the theme for September.

What is a Photo Club meeting like? We share and discuss pictures, ask questions, and laugh a lot. The meeting will start with members sharing their theme pictures, and then move on to other pictures of their own choice.

We welcome photographers of all abilities. If you are interested in meeting for lunch together first, come at 11:30 a.m. to the Great Dragon Buffet, across the parking lot from the library.

"Light" will be the theme when the Photo Club meets on Tuesday, October 10.

For more information, contact Sheri Goldsmith May at gold009@gmail.com or Craig Swan at swan@umn.edu.

Book Club I to meet September 15, October 20

Judy Helgen will lead the discussion of Lessons in Chemistry by Bonnie Garmus when the UMRA Book Club meets via Zoom at 2 p.m. on Friday, September 15.

On October 20, also at 2 p.m. via Zoom, Mary Jane Towle will lead the group's discussion of The Dictionary of Lost Words, another debut novel, by Australian writer Pip Williams.

Email Pat Tollefson at p-toll@umn.edu for more information. To read summaries of the book club's discussions, go to umra.umn.edu and search for "Book Notes."

FF Book Club to discuss classic short stories by Herman Melville

UMRA's Fourth Friday Book Club will discuss three classic short stories by the great 19th-century American author Herman Melville when it meets from 2 to 3 p.m. on September 22 via Zoom.

"Billy Budd, Sailor" and "Bartleby, the Scrivener" are two of the most revered shorter works of fiction in history. Melville's 1855 novella "Benito Cereno" was hailed by novelist Ralph Ellison as the most piercing look at slavery in all of American literature.

On October 27, the meeting will discuss the autobiographies of Frederick Douglass. Read one of these: Narrative of the Life of Frederick Douglass, My Bondage and My Freedom, or Life and Times of Frederick Douglass.

The Fourth Friday Book Club welcomes all UMRA members! For more information, please contact Dorothy Marden at marden@umn.edu or Maggie Catambay at m-cata@umn.edu.

CABINETS OF CURIOSITY

Travel back in time at the James Ford Bell Library

The James Ford Bell Library is a special collection that holds a treasure house of historical hand-colored maps, rare travel journals, and artifacts from the 16th to the 19th centuries. UMRA's next Cabinets of Curiosity tour, on Tuesday, October 3, from 1 to 3 p.m., will be led by Marguerite Ragnow, the Bell Library curator, and her assistant, Anne Goode.

They will begin with two exhibits, "Eyes on the World: Cartography in the Age of the Sail" and "Curious Strangers: Views of the Other on Early Modern Maps." They will then provide direct access to several of the rare, artistic, and informative maps that undergird the era of global exploration from the 15th to the 18th century, as well as illuminated letters of James I of England to the emperors of China and Japan, and an early 19th-century book of costumes of China, illustrating people in various walks of life.

Join the tour at the Wallin Special Collections Research Center on the ground floor of Elmer L. Andersen Library, which is located on the West Bank of the Mississippi River on the University of Minnesota Twin Cities campus. Personal items will go into lockers. The closest parking is in Lot 86, north of Mondale Hall. After the tour, those interested will convene for conversation at the nearby Town Hall Brewery.

Go to umra.umn.edu > Programs & Events > Annual Calendar > October 3 to register. The group size is limited, so please register soon.

Upcoming Programs

October 19 Workshop: University Health Plans

As has been our custom, UMRA's October workshop via Zoom will feature staff from the University's Office of Human Resources discussing the features and changes in the University's retiree health plans for the coming year. The workshop will likely include additional content on health and health insurance issues. Note the date is THURSDAY, October 19.

October 24 Forum: Book banning in U.S. schools and libraries.

If the growing movement to ban books is of concern to you, please plan to attend UMRA's October luncheon forum. It will feature Lisa Von Drasek, curator of the U of M Kerlan Collection of Children's Literature, and Maggie Snow, director of Minitex, the University-based, state-funded resource service for all Minnesota libraries. They will talk about book banning in Minnesota and across the nation and efforts underway to combat book banning.

Both programs will start at 11 a.m. Full descriptions of the workshop and forum will be published in the October UMRA eNews and on umra.umn.edu in the coming weeks.

JOIE

Invitation to write about resilience

As retirees, we are all learning to adapt to a world that seems to change on a daily basis. So, the editorial committee of the Journal of Opinions, Ideas & Essays (JOIE) is inviting UMRA members to share their thoughts on resilience via a short essay. The essays (maximum 1,000 words each) will be collected into a single document that will be published in the open-access, UMRA-sponsored e-journal. JOIE is intended for a general audience and is hosted by the University of Minnesota Digital Conservancy.

Suggested topics for the essay:

- Are you concerned about artificial intelligence? Why?
- Are you finding value in social media (Facebook, YouTube, X, etc.)?
- How are you learning to live in a politically divided country and/or family?

Please email your essay to Kris Bettin at betti002@umn.edu by October 15. Submissions will be edited for length and clarity.

FAMILY HISTORY

Growing up Revell

Please join us for the first meeting in 2023–24 of UMRA's Family History Interest Group (FHIG) on Wednesday, October 4, from 10 to 11 a.m. via Zoom. The FHIG is open to any UMRA member interested in learning how to explore and document their family history. We also welcome members who are willing to share insights and resources related to their family history projects.

Our October meeting will feature Marilyn DeLong, who retired from the College of Design and joined UMRA in 2022. Here is how she describes the focus of her presentation:

“Growing Up Revell—a Family Reunion Project’ is about sharing family stories and learning about surprising family connections. Recently, when I hosted a family reunion, I asked everyone to write an essay, prior to coming, about growing up in the Revell family. The compilation of essays from three generations that was distributed at the reunion has become a family keepsake.”

The Zoom invitation and link for the meeting will be emailed to all UMRA members one month and also one week before the program.

In remembrance

Based on notification from the U of M Office of Human Resources, published notices, and surviving next of kin, the UMRA Cares Committee informs our membership of current and past UMRA members who have died, and sends condolences to families. Join me in remembering our friends and colleagues. Also, if you learn of the passing of an UMRA member and would like to share that information, please let me know. —Jeanne Markell, mark002@umn.edu, UMRA Cares Committee chair
