Eric Hockert – URVC Board Chair (FY21)

--------------------------------------------------------------------------------

Since 1987 the University Retirees Volunteer Center (URVC) has served the University of Minnesota by matching volunteers with UMN and community projects in need of assistance. Many of our volunteers are University faculty and staff retirees. URVC is associated with the University through the Office of University Relations.

URVC was active in 2020-2021, continued to operate and continued to provide meaningful opportunities for our many volunteers.

For the past decade, the number of hours of volunteer service steadily increased until 2020 when Covid-19 caused cancellation of many activities and especially those on campus. The average for the previous 3 years (FY17-19) was over 10,000 hours per year contributed by about 300 volunteers. During FY21 we had 174 volunteers contribute 6,884 hours of service – a substantial decrease from previous years. We expect during FY22 activity will rebound as our society and the University reopen and projects get underway again.

One of our goals has been to increase volunteer contributions to the University of Minnesota compared to projects in the community outside the University. We sent 69 total volunteer project announcements in FY21 of which 29% were UMN projects and the remaining 71% were community (non-UMN) projects. This is short of our eventual goal for UMN-related projects but is moving in a positive direction.
Just as many units have struggled to adapt to the restrictions of the Covid-19 pandemic, the URVC encountered substantial reductions in the number of active volunteers as well as in the number of hours volunteered. However, the advice to work from home was easily followed since the URVC adopted an online volunteer management system in 2019 with financial support from the University. This software system facilitates many of the management functions previously accomplished by volunteer staff working in the URVC office. Since most of the office work is now being done remotely the physical redesign of the office space in McNamara Alumni Center (including the URVC office space) has not been a significant obstacle to URVC’s continuing operations and effectiveness. However, we look forward to the completion of the design and build of a new office in McNamara Alumni Center (expected completion date in Fall 2021).

A significant accomplishment in FY21 was the creation of a Communications group to make the resources of URVC more broadly known throughout the University. One of its first successes was the completion of a one-page Snapshot document (Attachments Item A.) that summarizes URVC and describes how University units can access our volunteers for their projects. Other successes include completion of a Thank You card sent to volunteers, development of a photo database to be used to share the URVC story, and the inclusion of a monthly article spotlighting a volunteer related item in the UMRA newsletter (University of Minnesota Retirees’ Association - UMRA). This group continues to expand its work with other activities in progress.

Some new projects started in FY21 to support the University of Minnesota include:

- Faculty retiree mentorship of Undergraduate Research scholars in collaboration with the Undergraduate Research Office. This project aligns with the University’s System Wide Strategic Plan (SWSP, Goal 2.1 on slide 23, Attachment C).
- Coaching for Mandela Washington Fellows in cooperation with the College of Education and Human Development and the Humphrey School of Public Administration. This is a program of the U.S. State Department’s Young African Leaders Initiative.
- Participation opportunities in the Institute for Advanced Studies (IAS) Health Forums Project for Advancing Healthcare Stewardship (PAHS).
- Participants for the Lower back pain intervention study in Rehabilitation Medicine.

Here are examples of the types of projects URVC supported in FY21 –

- Audio reader (MN State Services for the Blind)
- Tutoring computer skills (Open Door Learning Center, St. Paul, Midway)
- Tutoring English as a second language (ESL)
- Reader Writer program (Minneapolis and St. Paul Schools)
- Tutor in elementary schools (St. Paul, Minneapolis and suburbs)
- Environmental projects (Great River Greening)
- Mock Jury Trials (Mitchell-Hamline School of Law)
- History Day judges (Minnesota State Competitions)
- Science Fair judges (Twin Cities Regional)
- Food insecurity (Second Harvest Heartland, Meals on Wheels)
- Medical research participants (University of Minnesota)
- Tax Aides (AARP)
- Mental health (Stress balls for the Center for the Victims of Torture)
- Student integrity (UMN – Academic Integrity Matters/AIM)
- Medical student training (serving as “Community Health Teachers – Medical School)
- And many more

We also established committees to review membership criteria, to update the By-Laws and to explore additional funding sources through the UMN Foundation.

URVC’s operations have been updated and documented for future volunteers and leaders in the form of a URVC Handbook (Attachment Item B.).

The URVC appreciates continuing financial support ($4,000 annually) provided by the Office of University Relations which serves to provide support for the annual cost of our volunteer management software system, costs of on campus parking for volunteers, volunteer recognition (Attachment Item D) and general office operations.

URVC Volunteers like you make a big difference in lives every day!

Thank you for volunteering and for tipping the scales in our Twin Cities communities!

Whether you're actively volunteering now—virtually or in-person—or just waiting until you can comfortably do so again, you are still a very valued part of the talented, dedicated, URVC volunteer network. We hope you will keep watching your email for volunteer activity options from URVC's many connected agencies, and that you may choose to participate in a project you've always looked forward to—or maybe to try something new and different! Why not visit our updated website at urvcumn.edu today and explore the variety of ways you can continue to grow with us as one of URVC's inspired Volunteers in Action?

With our Very Best Wishes for the New Year from URVC Board of Directors and Staff...
